Minor in Southeast Asia Studies

A candidate for the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree at Cornell may obtain a Minor in Southeast Asia Studies by meeting these minimum requirements:

1. Complete 18 units of course work in Southeast Asia Studies, typically five courses, from the Asian Studies department and/or Asian-related courses taught in other departments. "ASIAN 2208: Introduction to Southeast Asia" is highly recommended. Of the five courses, non-language courses should be selected at the 2200-level or above. One of these courses must be a history course.

2. Candidates must receive a minimum grade of B for all courses counted towards the minor. S/U courses are ineligible.

3. The following courses also count towards the major: two courses in a Southeast Asian language at the 1100-level or above and Southeast Asia graduate courses. Language study is strongly encouraged.

4. Credit may be awarded for approved courses taken through Cornell Abroad in Southeast Asia, in consultation with the Director of Undergraduate Studies for the Asian Studies Department. Such courses may include summer study.

Those enrolled in the Southeast Asia Minor are considered members of the Southeast Asia Program and are encouraged to participate in all program activities.

To apply, select an advisor from the Southeast Asia Program faculty for consultation on courses of study. A list of eligible faculty is available in the Asian Studies Department Office. Additionally, schedule an appointment with the Director of Undergraduate Studies, Professor Larry McCrea at 370 Rockefeller Hall, (ljm223@cornell.edu). Bring the completed form to the appointment along with a copy of your current Cornell transcript. Informal transcripts are accepted.

Once approved, return the approved form to the Asian Studies Department Office, 350 Rockefeller Hall.
